MCT RAISES MONEY FOR BOULDER CREEK BREWERY

Mountain Community Theater in Ben Lomond is pitching in to help Boulder Creek Brewery, which suffered a devastating fire that left many people out of work.

At each production of "Damn Yankees," the theater company solicited donations for the Brewery employees, with the promise to match every dollar donated. In addition, theater company leaders decided to donate all of the ticket sales from its April 10 performance.

As a result, Mountain Community Theater leaders will donate $5,059 to help the Brewery employees pay their living expenses until they find other work and the Brewery can reopen. The donation is slated to be made Tuesday.
